A reader sent us the following self-explanatory little item through the mail the other day. We believe it's worth sharing:

A true story: A young man lives with his parents in a public housing unit. He attended public schools and participated in the free lunch program. He entered the Army and upon discharge, retained his National Life Insurance. He enrolled in the State University, working part time at the State Capitol to supplement his GI educational check. Upon graduation, he married a Public Health nurse and bought a home with an FHA loan, then obtained a Small Business Loan to go into business.

A baby was born in the City Hospital. He bought a small ranch with the aid of Veterans' Land Program and obtained emergency feed from the government. Later he put part of his land in the Soil Bank and payments soon paid off his ranch. His father and mother lived on the ranch very comfortably on their Social Security checks. REA lines supplied the electricity, the government helped him clear his land, the County Agent showed him how to terrace it and the government built him a fish pond . . . Then one day he wrote his Congressman:

"I wish to protest these excessive governmental expenditures and attendant high taxes. I believe in rugged individualism. I think people should stand on their own feet without expecting a hand-out. I am opposed to all Socialistic trends and I demand a return to the policies of States Rights."

a third order to move on or be arrested.

Two women riders — one white, the other Negro — entered the restaurant in Baton Rouge and were immediately ordered to leave or be arrested. They left the restaurant and sat down in the white waiting room where the order came again. After moments of explanation and argument they left.

At the end of their southbound trip to New Orleans, they ate quietly and orderly at the Trailways restaurant and sat in the white waiting room. They were not molested. Neither were they ordered to leave by police.

The group returned to St. Louis by train.

U. S., Russia Open Talks on Disarming

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union opened the second round of their disarmament talks today. An uncompromising editorial in Pravda made chances of success doubtful by insisting on talks on major questions without participation by America's allies.

U.S. Delegate John J. McCloy and Soviet representative Valerin Zorin met in the elaborate Spiridonovka Palace.

They maintained the policy initiated at the first round of talks in Washington earlier this month on making no public statements.

But Pravda has already spoken and it is doubtful if Zorin will tell McCloy anything he could not have read in the organ of the Soviet Communist party this morning.

A U.N. resolution called on the two powers to decide who would take part in general disarmament talks, where and when they would take place and what specific subjects are to be taken up.

The United States does not want to discuss the solid substance of disarmament behind the back of Britain and France, Washington regards these talks in Moscow as primarily procedural. But the Soviet Union has been trying to turn them into a formal two-nation disarmament conference, Pravda reiterated today.

SUSPENSE

A Short Short Story

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By RALPH DYLONG

Whenever one spoke of Moses Murdock, the term, "lycon" was applied automatically, even though the word has been worked to death. Moses Murdock was a colossus.

His business enterprises didn't stop with the boundaries of the nation, but kept right on going around the world. And he wasn't only a business man. He was sought after by colleges, not only for commencement addresses to insure young men to follow in his footsteps, but to explain the intricacies of economic and high finance. His philanthropic activities required a staff of trained specialists. He'd made revolutionary inventions. And even the Russians printed what he said, in spite of the fact that Moses Murdock was a hated capitalist.

He was above partisan politics, but Congressmen and governors asked his advice. Even members of the Cabinet sought him out, because Moses Murdock had connections in many laws and sometimes knew as much about some nations as the career boys of the State Department.

"Read with the learned; talk with the vulgar."

When Moses Murdock died, laying not a few doubts that he was mortal, the nation went into mourning. Hardly had the funeral ended when a publisher signed up Orestes M. Werton, author of two best sellers, to do a full dress biography of the Great American Moses Murdock.

Celeste Murdock, the widow, received the graying Mr. Werton in her summer home in New Hampshire.

"First," said the writer, "I'd like to get a mental picture of the real Moses Murdock, the man the public never knew."

"There was no such man," said the widow. "Moses Murdock was great, even when he was taking his morning shower."

Mr. Werton pondered on how she might have knowledge of this, but he did not pursue the idea. Instead he said, "Then let me get better acquainted with him, and his personal habits. His hobbies, and so on."

"Being a great man was his hobby," said Mrs. Murdock in a tone that implied that she had said this many times because it was expected of her.

She escorted Werton through the house, showing off his many art treasures, and sentimental keepsakes.

The tour ended in the great man's study, a room of some magnitude with mahogany furniture, wall to wall book cases, a vault for valuable papers and an expensive bar still stocked with liquors.

"This room was his," she said, using the capital H.

Werton's eyes roamed the bookshelves, possibly looking for copies of his own work. Then Werton realized that an ephemeral best seller, such as his, could never hope to hold its own in such company. These volumes were the works of Shakespeare, Milton, Poe, Mark Twain, and other literary greats. The volumes were in expensive bindings.

"Moses loved the classics," said Mrs. Murdock quietly. "He was always saying: 'Read with the learned; talk with the vulgar.'"

"I don't think he really meant it," said Werton. "Think of the great men he talked with." He reached out and took a classic from the shelf. He opened it. The binding was still stiff. He turned the pages. The pages were uncut. He tried another volume. And another. These books had not been read.

"He didn't have time to do much reading," said Mrs. Murdock feebly.

Werton's eyes swept the room. In a far corner were five or six shelves of books with inexpensive bindings. He walked over to them. He picked up one, found the binding loose and there were no uncut pages. Many pages were dog-eared.

Mrs. Murdock stopped being the sad-eyed widow. She flared.

"All right, so he read westerns and Murder mysteries," she exclaimed. "I told him he'd be found out some day!"

As she left the room, Werton shook his head. "Read with the learned; talk with the vulgar," he

ALC Starts Study to Cut Up $11 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council meets today to begin a study of a plan for dividing the state's $11 million surplus.

The council will make recommendations to a special session of the legislature which probably will be called next month. Little River Rep. Marion Crank has suggested that the council open the discussion to anyone who wants to offer a plan for dividing the surplus funds.

In another development, Perry Rep. Paul Van Dusen says he has heard considerable talk among legislators favoring a central coordinating board for the University of Arkansas and state-supported colleges.

Such a plan could be taken up at the special session, which must re-appropriate funds contained in the invalidated omnibus construction act.

The special session also may take up the matter of a state construction program in the wake of voter disapproval of Gov. Orval F. Faubus' $60 million construction bond issue.

State Sen. Merle Peterson of Dumas says some legislators are considering trying to include congressional redistricting in the work of the special session. The regular 1961 legislature set up a congressional redistricting plan but a petition campaign succeeded in getting the plan referred to a popular vote in the 1961 general election.

There has been some doubt expressed as to whether the legislature can legally take over the redistricting situation now that it has been placed in the hands of the voters.

Rusk Ponders West Meet on Berlin

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today was reported considering whether the Western foreign ministers should hold a strategy session on Berlin next month.

Informed sources said no definite decision had been made, but Rusk and the British and French foreign affairs chiefs may get together in Paris in view of the mounting seriousness of the Berlin situation.

The Western foreign ministers districting situation now that it has been placed in the hands of the voters.

presumably would review the entire Berlin situation and work out joint strategy that might be adopted to meet future Red pressures.

This came against a background of assurances from Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., that Republicans will support any "firm, tough position" President Kennedy takes on West Berlin.

so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovered by a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Destroy It Before It Destroys You

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: The only reason we celebrate our 15th wedding anniversary tomorrow is because of our two children. Our first years rolled along smoothly but being more or less confined to our home by the children, I became a lonely, shy introvert. Now I realize that my husband deliberately destroyed my self-confidence, especially in meeting people. He was insanely jealous. And still is.

As a result of spying on me his work has suffered. It is I who now earn enough to provide us with the necessities. My working hours are flexible. I am home to see my children off to school and back in time to prepare the evening meal. My husband checks on the mileage I use, opens my business and personal mail, often reading it in my presence. He lunches at a restaurant near my office, in order to further spy on me. I enjoy working with the people in my office, two of whom are men. The insinuations my husband makes regarding them and myself are too shameful to write. I asked him to consider a divorce for his sake, as well as mine. He cried for days after, berating himself for treating the one he loved most in the world so cruelly, and vowed he would change but he has not.

We consulted a marriage counselor and our family doctor but since my husband was not truthful it came to no avail. He loves the children and they him. I have joined a youth group and am president of a welfare club. Despite my husband's jealousy I feel I lead a useful life but—his ugly beratings are taking their toll. I asked him if he would be happier if I stayed home. He says no. Have you any suggestions? —Still Trying.

Dear Still Trying: We all, at some time in our lives, suffer the pangs of jealousy. But the difference between your husband and the normal human being is his inability to cope with the monster. Bring the thing into the open. Ask him why he is jealous. Does he have no faith in you? Impress upon him the inevitable consequences of giving way to this lathsome passion. By feeding it suspicion, doubt and fear he keeps it alive. He must see the thing for what it is—self-delusion. Like a true neurotic he eyes the object of his jealousy (you) through distorted lenses, hating you one moment, worshipping you the next. The jealous hearted magnify trifles and believe what frenzy dictates. Tell your husband that jealousy and love are not synonymous. Love is devotion, trust, generosity—jealousy the opposite. Make it crystal clear that there can be no compromise. If he doesn't master this weakness it should be goodbye forever. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Jaundiced Souls."

Dear Helen: I am at the end of my rope. All my wife cares about is the church and her job. We are in our fifties and have two lovely children, but—she never has loved me. She was 16, I 17 at the time of our marriage. Her indifference gnaws me to fury. What in heaven's name can I do? —Disgusted Husband.

Dear Disgusted: Look in the mirror. Compare the image you see with the boy your wife married. Go to a different barber, get a new suit, develop outside interests. Recheck your definition of love. In genuine love, there is the desire to give—even to deny self. This also applies to your wife. Tell her so. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on Marital Harmony.

Memo Frustrated Girl: The legal age for a woman is 18. After that she is on her own. In other words she, not her parents, is responsible for what she does.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and address her at this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available.

Official Charged as Embezzler

PARKIN, Ark. (AP) — City treasurer Inman H. Thompson has been charged with embezzling about $24,000 from the water and sewer department, which he controlled. Parkin's new mayor, Charles Thomas, said he discovered a shortage of funds while planning city improvements shortly after he took office. Thompson, free on $10,000 bond, denied embezzling the money. A bonding company has reimbursed the city for the missing money.

Redlegs Have Trouble But Maintain Lead

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's season-long trouble with the Chicago Cubs cost the Reds a full game of their National League lead Sunday when they bowed to the Cubs 4-2 while the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers were outslugging Pittsburgh in 10 innings.

The Reds still lead the Dodgers five games despite their problems with the Cubs, who have won 10 out of 16 from Manager Fred Hutchinson's crew.

The Reds main worry is George Altman. The Cub outfielder became the league's player of the month for June, largely through a nine-hit series against Cincinnati. He is well on his way to repeating in July with Cincinnati pitching providing the impetus.

Altman, hitting .302 against Cincinnati with six of his 10 homers against the league leaders, beat them Sunday 4-2 with a tie-breaking homer in the sixth inning. Bob Anderson's no-hit pitching for 3 2-3 innings saved a fifth victory for Dick Ellsworth at the expense of rookie Ken Hunt.

Los Angeles gained a full game on the Reds but they did it the hard way, blowing an early lead and finally beating Pittsburgh 12-11 on Johnny Roseboro's 10th-inning triple. Roseboro's ninth-inning homer had helped the Dodgers tie it up despite five home runs by the Pirates. Bill Mazeroski hit two and Dick Stuart, Roberto Clemente and Don Hoak each hit one.

San Francisco, making a belated move since the All-Star break, thumped the Phillies 7-3 with two homers by Willie Mays and one by Matty Alou. Sam Jones, making his first start since June 13, was the winner over Jim Owens with relief help from Stu Miller. The victory moved the Giants into third place.

Charlie Rabe was a disappointment in two previous Southern Association whirls with the Nashville Vols, but the veteran left-hander has demonstrated advanced pitching skills since he hooked up with the Macon Peaches.

The big southpaw, once a thrower in search of nothing but strikeouts, now boasts one of the shrewdest pitching minds in the league. His current record (11-4) and his seven consecutive victories emphasize his considerable improvement.

Rabe checked the Mobile Bears and Macon scored a 4-3 triumph Sunday to shove the Bears back into the Southern cellar behind the rain-idled Nashville Vols.

Birmingham, continuing to exert a strange mastery over the Atlanta club in the Crackers' own park, returned to the league lead via a 9-3 verdict in a game shortened to eight innings by a heavy rainstorm. Little Rock kicked Chattanooga into second place 9-0 behind Bo Belinsky and Jim Lebew. Their scheduled second game was rained out, and Lee Mage added another in Milwaukee's 9-1 romp over St. Louis whose only score was a pinch homer by Carl Warwick. Bob Hendley, rookie lefty, won with aid from Don Nottebart.

In the American League, Detroit regained first by half a game and one percentage point by whipping Kansas City 11-1 and 8-3 despite New York's 2-1 victory over Baltimore. Cleveland beat Minnesota 7-5 and then lost to the Twins 12-5. Los Angeles blasted Washington 11-2 and then lost 4-3 in 10 innings. Chicago edged Boston 4-3 but the Red Sox took the second 5-3 in 12 innings.

Anderson took over from Ellsworth in the Reds-Cubs game with two on base in the sixth. He struck out Jerry Lynch, the Reds' top pinch-hitter, and made Don Glasingame fly out.

Detroit Flexes Muscles, Takes Over First Place

By JACK HAND

Detroit flexed its muscles Sunday with six home runs to back up complete games by Don Mossi and Phil Regan and regained the American League lead from New York by a half-game and one percentage point.

Rocky Colavito hit two and Norm Cash, Al Kaline, Dick Mc-

Nashville was rained out at Shreveport.

Mobile rapped eight hits off Rabe, including home runs by Steve Jankowski and Pidge Browne. Rabe and the Peaches were never behind after Macon jarred loser Tom Richards for three runs in the second inning.

Birmingham used the long ball to excellent advantage in making it five in a row over the Crackers this season in Atlanta. Baron catcher John Sullivan unraveled a 2-2 tie in the sixth with a two-run homer, and Leo Smith followed with a two-run wallop in the seventh. Baron ace Howie Koplitz ran his season record to a shining 13-2 with a six-hitter.

Little Rock clouted Chattanooga starter Bob Milo for four runs and five hits in the first inning, and Ed Richardson padded the lead further by drilling a three-run homer off Lou Debole in the third. Belinski permitted only two singles in five innings before retiring with an aching arm. Lebew, a right-handed sidearm specialist, went the last four and also allowed only two singles.

Americans Win Meet Over Russians

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians outsmarted themselves when they agreed to keep separate men's and women's scores in the weekend track meet against the United States. Today they were trying to explain that, after all, it's the grand total of victories that counts.

The American men whipped the Soviet athletes, 13-9 in events and 124-111 in score based on a 5-3-2-1 scale in the third of their series of clashes that ended Sunday in a miserable rain. The Soviet women won 63-33.

Now the Americans head for Stuttgart and a meet with East Germany Tuesday and Wednesday.

Valery Brumel, the wonderful Soviet teen-ager, smashed the world high jump record by clearing 7 feet, 4 inches under wretched conditions and Ralph Boston of Tennessee State topped his own pending world broad jump record of 27 feet, 1/2 inch by soaring 27 feet, 1 inch.

America's John Thomas cleared 7 feet, 2 inches in the high jump but missed three times at 7 feet, 4 inches although he was almost over on his last shot.

The Soviet women completely

Auliffe and Mossi one each in an 11-1 and 6-3 sweep over the Kansas City A's.

Mickey Mantle's 32nd home run and ninth-inning double led the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over Baltimore. Bud Daley's four-bitter kept the Yanks rolling.

Chuck Essegian's two homers helped Cleveland dump Minnesota in the first game 7-5 but Lenny Green, who had eight hits in 11 trips during the afternoon, slammed a triple, double and three singles in the Twins, 12-5 triumph in the second game.

After Los Angeles rapped out 13 hits, including three-run homers by Steve Bilko and Ken Hunt in an 11-2 first game romp over Washington, the Angels lost the second 4-3 in the 10th on a pair of walks by Ryne Duren and a bad throw by catcher Del Rice.

Boston salvaged a split with Chicago when the Red Sox broke through with two runs in the 12th inning for a 5-3 victory in the second game after the White Sox took the first 4-3 on Minnie Minoso's two-run single in the ninth.

Cincinnati's National League lead was cut to five games when the Chicago Cubs beat the Reds 4-2 on George Altman's homer and second-place Los Angeles rallied to top Pittsburgh 12-11 on Johnny Roseboro's 10th-inning triple. Sam Jones, making his first start since June 13, pitched San Francisco to a 7-3 decision over Philadelphia and Milwaukee fanned St. Louis 6-1 with two homers by Joe Adcock and one by Lee Mage.

Mossi's homer in the first game at Detroit was his first of the year as he helped himself to victory No. 19 with a five-bitter. All Detroit runs in the second came on homers. Colavito's 23rd and 24th drove in five. Cash hit his 25th with a man on, his first in 17 games.

Daley might have had a shut-out in Baltimore in a rain-interrupted game but for some shoddy play that let two fly balls fall in for hits in the sixth inning when the Orioles scored their run. Mantle's home came off Steve Barber, who at one time was the victim of Mantle's game-winning double in the ninth, following a double by Tony Kubek.

Palmer Now Going After National PGA

NEW YORK (AP)—Arnold Palmer, back home again after fighting off rain, wind and a cantankerous course to capture the British Open golf championship, says he's determined to win the National PGA title in Chicago later this month.

"I want to win it more than ever now," Palmer said during a brief stopover Sunday en route to his home in Latrobe, Pa. "It's the only major one I haven't won, you know."

The 31-year-old ace of American golfers won his first British Open dominated their meet, winning eight of 10 events.

"We only made them separate meets because of our American friends," complained Leonid Khomenko, chief of the Soviet version of the A-A-U, dropping a few sour grapes on the way. "Don't they total up all the gold medals in the Olympics for both men and women?"

"The United States is the only nation in the world that separates its men's and its women's teams. We will never discriminate against our women in the Soviet Union. As far as we are concerned we won 17 events to America's 15."

The other United States victories Sunday were by Jay Silvester of the U.S. Army in the discus, 50.5, Jim Beatty in the 1,500 meters—3:43.8, which equals a 4:00.8 mile, and the 1,600-meter relay, with Adolph Plummer, Chuck Frazier, Earl Young, and Ellis Williams, 3:08.8.

The Soviet Union who won five events—the javelin by Viktor Tsybuldako—272-8 1/2, 3,000-meter steeplechase by Nikolai Sokolov—4:35.4, the 5,000 meters with Pitr Bolotinikov—13:58.4, and the decathlon with Yuri Kutenko—7,615 points, besides the high jump.

Tatyana Schelkanova set a women's world broad jump record of 21-3. Willie White of Chicago tied the listed record of 20-11.

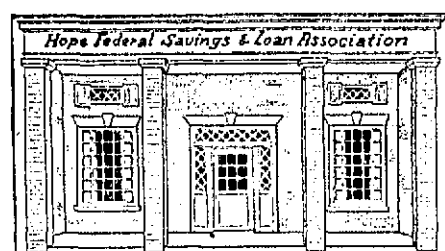

in his second try—firing rounds of 69 and 72 on the 36-hole windup at Birkdale, England, Saturday for a winning 72-hole total of 284. He won by a stroke from Dai Rees of Wales after having trailed Australia's Kel Nagle by a stroke in the 1960 championship—his first attempt.
